“A YES vote on Prop. 90 is a vote to protect your home or small business from seizure by local governments.”

– Assemblywoman Mimi Walters
Honorary Chair, YES on 90

For more than 20 years, Irvine politician Larry Agran has been trying to force his vision of a high density, rent subsidized Irvine on half a million people down the throats of the citizens of Irvine.

Agran, and his council majority of Beth Krom and Sukhee Kang, have been making steady progress on his goals, with high rise apartments and condos on Jamboree, to proposals to place tens of thousands of low-income rental units at the Great Park in the former El Toro airbase.

Beth Krom, Sukhee Kang, Mary Ann Gaido and Larry Agran oppose Proposition 90 because they know it will stop them from bulldozing your home or business to remake Irvine into their bold vision of a high density, high-rise utopia served by government-run trains and buses. In their vision of Irvine, you won't be able to find a place to park. You'll have to take the bus or ride your bike. And, you may not even be able to keep your house.

Your Irvine Pro-Property Rights Candidates:

Irvine Mayor
John Duong*

John believes that government should not be in the business of taking private properties for private use. Let the marketplace be the determinant in the exchange of property for private development.

Irvine City Council
Bill Mavity*

Bill supports Proposition 90. He believes that government should not be an intermediary in the exchange of private property. When eminent domain is required for a public purpose, just compensation must be guaranteed.

Irvine City Council
Christina Shea*

Abuse of eminent domain by elected officials and activist judges threatens you and your neighbors. Christina Shea supports Proposition 90 because property rights are a cornerstone of our democracy.

Your Federal & State Pro-Property Rights Candidates:

United States Congress
48th District

John Campbell*

Congressman John Campbell is a pro-property rights conservative who strongly supports Prop. 90. Campbell is working in Washington for limited government, less spending and lower taxes.

California State Assembly
70th District

Chuck Devore*

"I support Proposition 90 because government should protect liberty and not abuse its powers to take property from one person and sell it to another. If our property is not safe, then our liberty is in jeopardy."
